

Money Bill For W. T. Approved by the Governor

Governor Allan Shivers approved the appropriation bill as passed by the legislature of Texas a few hours before the deadline on Thursday night. The Governor had requested a ruling from the Attorney General on certain items in the bill.

Senator Grady Hazlewood while visiting here last week stated that he was certain that the Governor would sign the bill as passed by the legislature.

Appropriation for West Texas State College for the coming two years starting September 1st amounts to $2,302,444. This is a little less than the appropriation which was passed two years ago for the two years period and amounted to $1,304,316. However, in purchasing power of the dollar today as compared with the purchasing power of two years ago, the total appropriation is a considerable decline over the amount of money which the college will receive.

The legislature considered several riders to the bill which were opposed by all state departments. None of these were finally included in the bill which was presented by the free conference committee and adopted by both houses of the legislature.

A rider which has been sought by the legislature for 25 years is that all state funds be forwarded to the state treasury in Austin and be withdrawn only by order of the State Board of Control. President James P. Cornette stated Friday that this red tape might slow down work of the colleges but the State Treasurer has discretion in his powers of selecting depository banks over the state and this rider may not be as bad as it now looks.

C of C Committees Make Reports at Regular Meeting

For the regular meeting of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce held in the City Hall on Thursday, June 28, all members of the Board of Directors were present. Bill Sternberg is president of the Board. Other members are Cliff Mlinar, Clark Jarnagin, Clay Cooper, James Cole, E. E. Davis, Robert Bellah, Al Kieselbach, and Dr. Charles R. Nester.

Fred Stapp, representative of "Manufacturer's Record," gave a short talk in which he discussed the advancement of industries in this West Texas area. Cliff Mlinar and Clay Cooper were appointed as members of an industrial committee to investigate possibilities of small factories in the Canyon area.

Clark Jarnagin, chairman of the agricultural activities committee, reported on the possibilities of extending Canyon's rural mail system.

In the near future a committee from the Canyon C of C will meet with Mayor Whiteside of Lubbock to discuss Canyon's participating in the Canadian River Dam Project.

On Friday morning E. E. Davis and Cecil Massey attended a meeting of the industrial committee of West Texas Chamber of Commerce in Amarillo. Fred Husbands, manager of the West Texas C of C stated that Eastern manufacturers are looking West.

'Snow White' and 'Tom Sawyer' To Be Presented

Tom Sawyer and Snow White will come alive Wednesday night, July 11, 7:30 p. m. at the Education Building Auditorium with the first presentation of the drama group of the Canyon Recreation program.

Raymond Driskell as Tom and Anne Godfrey as Becky will reenact the familiar schoolroom scene and Tom's own funeral.

Snow White, Barbara Shepard, will meet seven little Canyon dwarfs in their cottage with its seven small chairs and seven small beds—all just alike.

All scenery and props for these scenes have been made and painted by the children themselves. Each scene will have members of the group as the stage manager, property manager and costumer.

Admission for this production by the children of Canyon will be 15 cents.

Citizens Enjoy Day of Rest on Fourth of July

July 4th is one of the days which has been set aside as a general vacation period in America.

Practically all business has been suspended in Canyon for this holiday in order that employees may take the day for a period of rest and recreation.

No celebration has been staged in Canyon for several years on July 4th, and the day has been generally observed with relaxation by the citizens.

Fishing, sight-seeing and golf are the general pastimes of Canyon citizens, while family picnic parties are being held by many of our townsmen.

When Canyon people go back to their work Thursday they should be relaxed and rested rather tired out as the result of a strenuous day of celebrating.

Sheriff's Office Expecting Light Work Over Fourth

While other towns plan Independence Day celebrations such as rodeos and street dances, Canyon plans to settle down for a day of rest and relaxation. M. E. Cantrell and W. B. Campbell of the sheriff's office predict a quiet holiday. Campbell recalls past violations on Independence Day as consisting of speeding and reckless driving that usually result from too many drinks.

One of the reasons why Mr. Campbell sees no particular increase in traffic violations is the fact that Canyon has no special Fourth of July celebration. The cultural and educational melting pot of West Texas and surrounding states has a great number of students who return home for the holiday. Others go fishing or quietly haul out the ice cream freezer for a delicious dish of home made ice cream. Still there are others who spend the holiday by motoring to a neighboring town to visit or celebrate as they desire.

If history repeats itself, and the sheriff's department is predicting it will, Canyon will enjoy a languid day of Independence from a spiritual as well as a physical point of view.

What? No Warwick Listed Among the Queer Names?

Wes Izzard of the Amarillo Globe-News seems to be somewhat put out that he seldom runs across his name. That's nothing unusual, although the name may sound a little screwy.

What about that good old English name, "Warwick"? Ever see or hear the name?

Frankly, out of all the people we have seen or met, or heard tell of, we have never met a man by this name, outside of our immediate family.

Back in good old England, the land of basted lords and princes, and all of the other stuff, the name is a common one.

We are thankful that our granddad, rather than the "King Maker" decided to come across the ocean to America!

Delta Kappa Gamma Honored With Lawn Supper

Dr. Hattie M. Anderson and Mrs. T. V. Reeves were hostesses Thursday, June 28, at a lawn supper honoring members of Delta Kappa Gamma who are attending West Texas State this summer. Canyon members of the organization were also guests.

On the list appeared the names of thirty women who are members of this professional fraternity. The meeting at the home of Dr. Anderson is a regular feature of the summer session at West Texas State.

Election Law To Be Changed Under New Bill

Possibly the most controversial bill signed into law during this year was the election recodification bill which Governor Allan Shivers signed Thursday. The law seeks to remodel the present election laws of Texas, making them more workable.

Feature of the law which was widely criticized was that providing for filing of candidates on more than one ticket. This feature has been in operation in California for years. Opponents to this feature charged that the Dixiecrats were about to take over the Democratic party in Texas.

Another feature provides that delegates to convention could hold proxies from only one county. In years past delegates have shown up at state convention with a pocketful of proxies from counties which were not represented in the convention.

Father, Son Burned When Gas Exploded

Milton Myers and his 4-year-old son, Tim, were burned at the Jim Bible farm southwest of Canyon Friday when butane gas exploded.

Milton had gone out to the Bible farm to clean the condenser on a milk cooler. They were blowing out the condenser with butane, and had turned off the electricity. They forgot about the gas burner, and it is evident that the explosion started from this flame.

Milton and his young son were outside the milk house when the explosion occurred. Ray and James Bible were inside the building and suffered severe burns from the accident.

Milton suffered third degree burns in the explosion and his son received second degree burns. The milk shed was badly shaken up in the explosion.

Canyon Delegation To Ridgecrest Camp

Mrs. Richard Gidden, sponsor of the Y. W. A. of the First Baptist Church of Canyon, accompanied by Miss Carlene Rogers and Miss Laura Lynn Smith, left Sunday for Dallas where they will join the Texas Y. W. A. delegation for a trip to Ridgecrest, North Carolina, to attend the Southern Baptist Convention.

The Texas girls will go in three 29-passenger chartered buses for the trip of 2500 miles and will be gone about two weeks.

Mrs. Gidden is making her third trip to Ridgecrest as a Y. W. A. sponsor.

Big Hail Stones Measured in Fall

George Schaeffer stated that hail stones measuring up to 1 1/4 inches fell at his farm southeast of Canyon in the hail storm which swept over that section one week ago Thursday.

The hail stones made holes in the earth large enough for a man's double fists, states Mr. Schaeffer.

The American's Creed

I believe in the United States of America as:

A government of the people, By the people, for the people; Whose just powers are derived From the consent of the governed;

A democracy in a republic; A sovereign Nation of many sovereign states;

A perfect Union, one and inseparable; Established upon these principles Of freedom, equality, justice, and humanity

For which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

I therefore believe it is my duty To my country to love it,

To support its Constitution, To obey its Laws,

To respect its Flag, And to defend it against all enemies.

Recent Rains, Hail Damage Row Crops

Recent heavy rains have done much damage to both crops and land in the Canyon area. County agent John Brazzil says a great deal of erosion has been the result of heavy rainfall on unprotected land. Wheat crops that are ready for harvest are also damaged by the heavy rains that were welcomed only a few weeks ago.

According to Mr. Brazzil the new crops that were hardest hit by heavy rains are those of grain sorghum. Some people planting this crop have had to re-plant as much as four times. In addition to heavy rains, wheat crops have also suffered from the ravages of hail storms.

Although wheat crops have been damaged extensively and grain sorghum crops have been ruined before they get a chance to start growing, range and pastureland are in excellent condition as a result of these rains. Present controls create a mystery as to what the cattlemen will do about their stock but as long as there's an abundance of native grass, neither cattle nor owners will suffer greatly. So, as many wheat crops perish just before harvest, range and pastureland flourish for greater livestock crops.

Bus Service to Park Considered at Monday's Meeting

A representative of the Texas Railroad Commission was in Amarillo Monday when a hearing was held on the application for daily bus service to the Palo Duro State Park.

It was proposed that the service would run between Amarillo and the Park, with a stop in Canyon to pick up passengers to and from the Park. No passengers would be picked up between Canyon and Amarillo.

There was no opposition to the application, which will be granted in about 30 days.

The crowds continue to grow at the Park, with great interest in the Treasure Hunt which was started two weeks ago.

Two Showers Fall In Canyon Over The Weekend Light

Little moisture was received here as a result of the two showers which fell in Canyon over the week-end.

The first shower came Saturday night, with .09 of an inch of moisture falling.

The second shower came Sunday night with only .15 of an inch of moisture falling.

The month of June ended with 3.58 inches of rain, which brought the total for 1951 up to 15.98 during the first six months.

Tidelands Bill Is Approved in House

The Judiciary Committee of the House of Representatives in Congress has approved the return of tidelands oil land to Texas.

Texas Representatives state that the bill will be passed by the House and that it will pass the Senate when it reaches that body.

The President says that he will veto the measure in order that the federal treasury may get the benefit of this oil.

Oil Transport Overturned and Burned Thursday

Three men narrowly escaped a fiery death Thursday when a gasoline transport truck rolled from the highway north of town and caught fire shortly after noon.

J. E. Mabes, of Quitaque, driver of the gasoline transport owned by Magnolia Oil Co., leaped to safety after his vehicle collided with a fruit truck and a soft drink truck at the highway intersection near the underpass on the Canyon-Amarillo road.

Flames soared to more than a hundred feet and the other trucks were seared as the scorching gasoline-fed blaze kept spectators far back from the wreckage.

Jack Hurt, of Amarillo, driver of the fruit truck, and Jack Woolery, Amarillo, escaped with bruises and cuts, but no serious injuries.

Traffic through the intersection came to a halt and spectators atop the railway underpass were forced to the edge of the embankment as a train came through while the fire continued.

According to witnesses, the transport rolled over several times after the collision.

First Men of Air Corps to End Training

The first contingent of men who have been under training at West Texas State College in the commercial department will leave the campus on July 9th. Twenty-five men have been here for the 12 weeks' course of training.

The contract with the Army Air Force has been renewed by President James P. Cornette and Business Manager Virgil Henson to train 675 men. The original contract was for 275 men, who are now on the campus.

Under this contract the last group of men will arrive Oct. 22 and will be under training until January. The contract is subject to cancellation at the will of the army, but it is unlikely that it will be cancelled until conditions in Korea change the set-up.

While here the men are students in the college, and are not under the strict military supervision as witnessed when 400 men were in training on the campus during World War II.

Asks Why Rogers Changed His Vote Favor of Acheson

Frank T. O'Brien, former Republican candidate for Congress in this district, is sending out letters to friends asking why Congressman Walter Rogers changed his vote in favor of Acheson. Rogers first voted in favor of cutting off government aid to Acheson, but was among the Texas Congressmen to change his vote to give funds to the State Department.

Says O'Brien: "Looks like Uncle Sam Rayburn has Walter's vote in his vest pocket and no doubt told him that he has been making too much racket about beef lookbacks."

"I wonder if Pete LaMaster or Ben Guill would have switched in favor of Acheson?"

Joe Coleman, tenor, will sing incidental solos in the folk song entitled "The Turtle Dove" and in the spiritual "There Is A Balm In Gilead."

Docket District Court Cleared Up With Dismissals

Judge Henry S. Bishop came down from Amarillo last week and cleaned up the docket in District Court by dismissing 18 old cases which have been filed for several months, and some of them for several years. He had called upon lawyers to be present to object to the dismissal of any case they wished to try. Attorneys were informed that other cases would be dismissed unless date for trial was set.

James Earl Carothers plead guilty to forgery Saturday before Judge Bishop and was given a sentence ranging from two to four years.

Gas Company Asks Increase In Local Rates

C. I. Wall, president of West Texas Gas Company, announced Monday his company has filed a petition with the Texas Railroad Commission for an increase in its General Service Rate.

Mr. Wall said that for sometime the company has been concerned over the fact that ever increasing costs of material, labor, taxes, gas purchased for resale, etc., might make it necessary to request an upward adjustment in the general service rate. He stated further that since the company began operation in the fall of 1927 that several downward adjustments in rates have been made—the last reduction being made in 1940.

This is the first general service rate increase to be requested by the company.

A proposed rate has been filed with the petition to the Railroad Commission—a copy of which is being presented to the Mayors of the towns the company serves. The proposed rate increase would not increase the present minimum charge which is $1.25 per month for the first two thousand cubic feet used. Twenty-three per cent of the bills rendered to residential and business customers are for two thousand cubic feet or less.

To show the effect of the rate increase the company has made application of the new rate to the actual annual consumption of over seven hundred residences representing several from every town served. The average annual residential consumption for the calendar year 1950 was 86 MCF.

Taking the first fifty examples cited in each of several groups, arranged by annual consumption, the following average increases will occur:

Annual Consumption	Annual Increase in Bill
41 to 60,000 cubic feet	$2.82
61 to 80,000 cubic feet	4.55
81 to 100,000 cubic feet	5.99
101 to 150,000 cubic feet	8.13

The percentage of increase to the consumers of Canyon will amount to 14 1/2%. The average increase for all of the towns served by the system amounts to 14.6%, according to the schedule filed with the Railroad Commission.

Rev. Edgar Irvine is manager of the Camp Ground and is making a great success of the project which is sponsored by the Northwest Texas Conference.

Trailer Upset Highway North City Thursday

Defective brakes were given as the reason for the accident of a huge semi-trailer at the highway junction just north of Canyon Thursday morning about 4 o'clock. W. C. Bryant was driving the truck which belonged to Malcolm Hall of Portales.

The truck driver said he approached the junction turn slowly. When he applied the brakes they did not slow the huge truck and semi-trailer loaded with vegetables, canteloupes and water melons. When the truck went over the sloping shoulder of the highway, the trailer section tipped over. The fifth-wheel, a device for holding the semi-trailer section firmly anchored to the truck cab section, pulled loose leaving the cab setting upright.

At 9:30 a. m. driver W. C. Bryant was still waiting for a Malcolm Hall representative from Portales to help unload the cargo and lend a hand in getting the trailer back on its wheels. No one was hurt and damage seemed to be restricted to the fifth-wheel.

Controls Continue For 31 Days More

In a last minute move, Congress has extended the life of controls for 31 more days.

Congress became engaged in a squabble during the session which made it impossible to pass necessary appropriations bills and the controls measures until the last minute.

The hands of the President are tied during the coming month, prohibiting him from enacting additional controls, which are opposed by a majority of Congress.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

This Is the Day of Patriotism —and USA Is Best of Them All

Since this is the Fourth of July, all of us are supposed to wax eloquent, and be bubbling over with patriotism.

That is, we are supposed to feel that way. But are we?

This nation has withstood 175 years of turmoil, and will withstand a whole lot more of just such years of stress and strain that has confronted it during the past. We are a lucky nation, born almost with a silver spoon in our mouth, although millions of our citizens have felt the pains of distress and actual want throughout the years.

This has been a great nation. No one would trade it off—that is, only a few misguided souls would trade off the advantages of America for the disadvantages of America for the disadvantages of the countries which promise so much and produce so little.

To be patriotic is only the normal thing. We do not need to throw our hats in the air just for the sake of whooping it up for Uncle Sam on this birthday of our nation. However, we can look around us solemnly and consider the advantages which have been ours throughout the years.

Just to live in this nation, under the Stars and Stripes, is payment enough for all of the things which have been imposed upon our people under the guise of patriotism during the past years.

Peace Talks? We All Wonder
Just What Russia Is Up To

Peace talks have again upset the thinking of the world. This time the peace talk comes from Russia, which makes the situation just about as clear as mud to the average citizen.

The facts are, and do not overlook them, Russia could have had peace all of these bitter months if she wanted peace. So far she has wanted only continuous strife, especially within this nation which bears the brunt of opposition to the Russian doctrine of destruction of all her enemies.

Russia may like communism, and if that is the kind of government she wants and is best suited to her needs, no one will object. But when Russia starts out to force her doctrine upon the balance of the world, through the strength of arms, then we have a right to seriously object to her theory of government. The fact that communism cannot thrive without stirring up trouble in other nations proves that communism is a dangerous kind of government.

The fact that South Korea, which has suffered so much during the past year, wants to continue the war until the Reds are driven out of North Korea and the country is again united is a pretty good indication that the Reds are a failure. South Korea does not want communism, yet her country is being overrun, and her people slain because of the presence of communism.

We are not over-enthusiastic about the present peace talks, although like all good Americans we want peace and want it very, very badly. The present economy, built upon preparations for war, is a dangerous situation, and one that will break every individual in the nation if carried too far.

Russia has lied so often and broken so many treaties that she cannot be trusted in any kind of a peace talk!

Senator Tom Connally Will Make Race Against Field

Senator Tom Connally has again stated his position on the 1952 campaign. He will make the race for re-election, regardless of who may be in the running. He is emphatic on this point.

During the recent convention of the Texas Press Association we talked with a number of newspaper men from over the state. They were free in their position: They hoped that Governor Allan Shivers would stay out of the race. If both Connally and Shivers should get into the campaign, it was observed that most of the country press would be for Connally. His standing as chairman of the powerful Foreign Relations committee of the Senate puts him in the most strategic position to be of service to Texas. Connally may be taking too many orders from the White House to please a lot of voters, and the policy of his committee may not suit a lot of people, yet he is chairman of this committee, and will remain its head so long as the Democrats are in power. If the Republicans should win the race in 1952, Connally would still be a member of the committee, a place that no freshman senator could hope to reach during his first term of office.

Adding up the situation, indications are that Texas will see plenty of politics during 1952, regardless of the race for United States Senate.

There will be plenty of hot air during the hot campaign of next year. Get your poll taxes ready for the big show in 1952.

Law Enforcement Not Our Business—Galveston Smells

We are not advocating law enforcement in Galveston if the majority of the people down there prefer to have a wide open town. You cannot have law enforcement unless the local folks want law enforcement. While all Texans regret that the people of Galveston feel that way about the situation, Galveston is not the only wide open town in Texas. Liquor and crime thrive in many other cities and towns of Texas. Just pick up your daily paper and you will see just how right we are.

If the law loving folks down in Galveston want to see the law enforced they have the right to go to the polls in 1952 and kick out the bunch which is bringing shame and disgrace to their fair city. The people of Texas are ashamed and shocked at the position taken by public officers, who claim that they represent the will of the majority.

We shall see what we shall see.

Character building is almost like the weather, everybody talks about it but very few do anything about it.

A patriot is a man who does not complain about the taxes he expects to pay on the profit he would like to make.

Too Big! Yes, Sir, Government Too Big For Any One Man!

We read a statement the other day which we intended reproducing in this column, but the thing became lost in the maze of papers which pass over this table every day. You note that we said table—a desk is the common word, except for the fact that a desk is no longer large enough to hold all of the junk which accumulates here every day.

This statement was in regard to the head of a big corporation. A man had turned down the big salary connected with the presidency of this corporation because the job was too big for any one man.

While no reference was made to the presidency of the United States, it was clear that the reference was intended. The presidency is a man-killing job. We are piling too many obligations on the man in the White House. He cannot possibly look after all of the details which are piled on his shoulders. Therefore the president is delegating a lot of work to his subordinates, and here comes the string of mink coats and deep freezes of which you have been reading.

Granted that Harry S. Truman is an honest and honorable man, under the system upon which our government operates, mistakes, gross mistakes, greed and corruption of little men in big places are bound to creep into the picture.

We note that the president has been made responsible for the location of all additional defense plants in this nation. None can be built without his approval. Just how much time has he to devote to such work, and what is his opinion in connection to the opinion of men who are spending their lives in such work? Yet the law makes him responsible for such big jobs, in addition to all of the little clerical jobs over which he must exert personal control.

No wonder there are so many things in connection with the government which are unsatisfactory to so many of our people. The job is simply too big for one man, regardless of how big that man may be. Yet we find plenty of men who are willing to sacrifice their lives for the glory of the job.

War Damages Continues as a Ticklish Problem of Nations

In spite of the fact that no war damages have been assessed against any nation who was engaged in World War II, talk occasionally creeps out as to the damages which will be claimed when peace talk is renewed. So far Russia has blocked peace treaties with all nations. Why? You answer this, we cannot.

The situation is this: Take Germany for instance, Russia has wrecked the economy of eastern Germany, dismantling the factories and plants and removing them to the Red territory for the purpose of building her own war machine in the campaign of aggression against the free peoples of the world.

Could eastern Germany pay for the damages done by her troops? It is very, very unlikely.

Western Germany, under the control of United States, England and France is in a little better condition, slowly recovering. Yet we never expect this section of Germany to be in position soon to pay much war damages. Naturally the people of Germany will say that Hitler brought on the war; that Hitler is dead; and they should not be forced to pay for the damages brought on by his armies.

The same situation exists in Japan. France is demanding that Japan pay for the damage incurred by the troops of the war lords, who started the war in Japan. The response is that Japan, as a nation, was not responsible for the damages done by the war party in Japan.

As a result of this confusion, Uncle Sam will be played for the international sucker and will be expected to pay the damages inflicted, not only by our troops in repelling the war machines of Germany and Japan, but also to repay the damages done by these invaders in territory outside of the home zones. Poor Uncle Sam; poor us.

Senator McCarthy Speaks to The Galleries For Support

While most folks are getting pretty fed up on the tactics of Senator McCarthy he is not without friends in the Capitol city. It seems that McCarthy is being urged on simply because he is a good needler for the administration, and likes to play to the galleries. His speeches are not listened to or even read by his fellow senators, but are lapped up by the public.

While we are of the opinion that Senator McCarthy is pretty much of a heel, and should be shut up, yet he is doing a pretty good public service in that he is pointing to a lot of defects in our government which need attention. If he would present facts instead of a lot of harangue, he would be in a better position to get the public's attention.

Eisenhower May Come Home!

General Eisenhower is suffering from a nervous shock. He finds that the so-called North Atlantic pact is another scrap of paper as compared with the strong document which he thought he had when he went over to "save" Europe.

It seems that Europe does not have the will to be "saved" from the Reds. Eisenhower is reported to be just about ready to throw up his hands and return home.

Who would blame him?

An editor, who gets too smart for his readers, ought to be fired or retired unless his relatives own the newspaper.

The people of the world, unlike Gaul, are divided into only two parts, those who want publicity and those who get it.

Mutual Congratulations

Freedom's 175th birthday is certainly an occasion for handshaking. And what could be more appropriate than a handshake by statesman Thomas Jefferson, author of the Declaration of Independence, and bewhiskered Uncle Sam. It was with Jefferson's document, an eloquent statement of those "certain inalienable rights" of men, that Uncle Sam severed his allegiance to Great Britain in 1776. After exchanging mutual congratulations, the two gents cut their Fourth of July birthday cake, no doubt with the wish that America may enjoy another 175 years of securing "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" for its citizens.

MILLIONAIRE WINS $5 BET

Woodridge, N. J. — Ten years ago, Ted Webber and Ray Restione were fellow students at Drake University. Restione bet Webber $5 that he would not become a millionaire before he was thirty. Recently, Restione learned that he had lost — Webber, an oilman of Tulsa, Okla., although not yet thirty, had "passed the $1,000,000 mark." He had hit it lucky in oil. Restione, 29, is a member of the personnel office of the N. J. Bell Telephone Company in Newark, N. J.

ARRANGES OWN FUNERAL

Reading, Pa. — A woman called a funeral home and told Robert Smythe, who answered the telephone, that she wanted to arrange her funeral. When asked her name, the woman answered: "This is Mrs. Thelma Woomert. I will be dead when you get here." She gave the address, sobbed and hung up. When police arrived, five minutes later, they broke into her bolted bedroom and found Mrs. Woomert dead — of an overdose of sleeping pills.

MOVIES

Americans spent $1,566,890,000 going to moving pictures in 1948, including $85,815,000 for popcorn, candy, chewing-gum and the like bought in theaters, according to a Census Bureau report.

WRONG NUMBER

When a statistician comes up with an item to the effect that fifty-four per cent of the world's telephones are in North America, the temptation is strong to tell him he's got a wrong number.

A BIG QUESTION

"What," someone asked a Congressional candidate, "will you do if you're elected?"
"Good gracious!" exclaimed the startled candidate. "What will I do if I'm not?"

CARD SHARK

Teacher: "Today's lesson teaches us about the influence of kings and queens, but there is still a higher power. Which little boy can tell me what it is?"
Johnny: "Aces, teacher."

Now Freedom needs YOU

The Declaration of Independence was signed at Independence Hall, Philadelphia, in 1776. Here will gather the Delegates of Freedom on July 1, 2, 3 and 4. They will come from all over America and from freedom-loving countries.

This is the year of re-dedication throughout America. Take a new look at Freedom, think how it works for you in your community, and help it along today as it has helped you in the past.

Below is an excerpt from memorial address delivered by Rabbi Roland B. Gittelsohn at the dedication of the Fifth Marine Division Cemetery on Iwo Jima, in March, 1945.

"Here lie men who loved America because their ancestors generations ago helped in her founding, and other men who loved her with equal passion because they themselves or their own fathers escaped from oppression to her blessed shores. Here lie officers and men, Negroes and whites, rich men and poor—together. Here are Protestants, Catholics, and Jews—together. Here no man prefers another because of his faith or despises him because of his color. Here there are no quotas of how many from each group are admitted or allowed. Among these men there is no discrimination. No prejudice. No hatred. Theirs is the highest and purest democracy.

"Any man among us, the living, who fails to understand that will thereby betray those who lie here dead. Whoever of us lifts his hand in hate against a brother or thinks himself superior to those who happen to be in the minority makes of this ceremony and of the bloody sacrifice it commemorates an empty, hollow mockery. Thus, then, do we, the living, now dedicate ourselves to the right of Protestants, Catholics, and Jews, of white men and Negroes alike, to enjoy the democracy for which all... have here paid the price."

Since 1776 our Freedom has never been "for free"... Some have paid the highest price within their power to give... All, as citizens, must make some payment on the fruits of freedom they enjoy... Now is the hour for 150 million Americans to participate in America... Making America "tick" better than ever before is a stronger weapon than the atom bomb.

175 Years Ago Today Colonies of The New World Broke Their Bonds — Bonds Still Remain Unbroken Today

JULY 4, 1776

In spite of the valiant fight being waged in Congress against extravagance, greed and corruption, the federal budget and spending continues to grow, and grow and grow. "What can I do about it," is the cry on every hand on this July 4, 1951.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Bradford of Pasadena, Calif., were here visiting friends. Mrs. Bradford is the former Mamie Conner, first white child born in Randall county. They had been in Santa Fe attending the marriage of their daughter, Beckie, on Saturday, and came here to look after property.

Pfc. and Mrs. C. L. Hood visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Hood and Mr. and Mrs. Cummings over the week-end. George Snyder, buddy of C. L.'s also visited in the S. R. Hood home.

Word was received by the E. R. Cleavingers that Pfc. Billy Cleavinger had landed in Bremerhaven, Germany. He is to be stationed with the 12th Air Force at Weisbaden, Germany.

Mrs. O. B. Vaughan accompanied her sister Mrs. J. R. Brewster and family of Amarillo to Elk City, Okla., where their mother, Mrs. Mattie Goodrum, was seriously ill. They left Saturday morning.

Norris and Harold Root went to Odessa Sunday to bring Mrs. Gene Root and Nancy home where they have been visiting Mrs. Root's daughter, Mrs. James Richardson.

Miss Newman Was Here to Visit the Place of Her Birth

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Burrow had as their guest last week Miss Virginia Newman of New York City. Miss Newman is the daughter of the late J. C. Newman, who came west from West Virginia in early 1890, and was employed by Rockwell Bros. & Co., as their second manager of their business at Hereford, where Miss Virginia was born and where he, with his family, resided until 1907, when he was sent to Plainview to open a new branch yard for the same firm, and where he resided until his passing in 1908. Soon after his death his widow returned to her native Indiana with her three small daughters. After attaining young womanhood Miss Newman aligned herself with a large real estate firm in New York, where she has been employed the past sixteen years.

For many years Miss Newman has cherished a desire to visit the city of her nativity, Hereford, and Plainview where she spent the early part of her babyhood and visit the last resting place of her father. Taking advantage of the opportunity to make such a visit she flew down from New York to Amarillo, where she was met by Mr. and Mrs. Burrow, and on last Thursday she was taken to Hereford, where she secured her birth certificate, visited with C. C. Rockwell at the lumber yard where her father was manager half century ago and met other old friends of her father.

Then on to Plainview where she was met by Raymond Lawrence, an erstwhile employee of her father, who flew up from Midland, where he presently lives. At Plainview the group was entertained with a luncheon at the Hilton Hotel by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Horn. Mr. Horn is district manager for Rockwell Bros. & Co., whose home is at Plainview.

After luncheon she was accompanied by the group to the cemetery where she viewed for the first time the last resting place of her father.

Miss Newman expressed great satisfaction and much pleasure at being able to visit Hereford, the city of her nativity, and Plainview, where she spent the early days of her babyhood and meet a few of those yet living who were friends of her father. Miss Newman left Friday via air for her home in New York City.

J. B. Elliston Is Interested in Oil Tests in Randall

J. B. Elliston of Hereford was in Canyon Friday morning and is greatly interested in seeing a good oil test well sunk in this county. Elliston was interested in an early test well near Umbarger where a strong showing of gas was hit. Elliston believes that oil will be hit in the west part of Randall or east part of Deaf Smith county by one of the major oil companies. The situation in Iran makes it imperative that the nation secure more oil, states Mr. Elliston.

Carol Jean and Johnnie Small of Carlsbad, New Mexico, visited their grandmother, Mrs. Henry Meyer and other relatives recently.

Pvt. Dean Foster is visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Foster of Wayside. Pvt. Foster is stationed at Fort Bliss, Texas.

W. O. (Bud) Parker, Dean Walter Juniper and Cliff Milnar represented the Canyon Rotary Club at a district assembly in Ralls Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Wilcher of Plainview visited with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hair Sunday.

Crop Rotation Is Profitable Says Plainview Writer

The following article was taken from the June 24th issue of the Plainview Sunday Herald:

CROP ROTATION RESULTS
Earl Laney, farmer who lives 10 miles southwest of Plainview, holds up an average-sized clump of wheat and compares it with another bunch, also grown on his land, displayed at right by Ollio Liner, Agricultural Agent.

Laney planted 80 acres of wheat this year, half of which was planted on acreage used to produce black-eyed peas last year. Pea stalks were turned under so they would supply humus which fortifies land, before wheat was planted.

Results of this experiment show that the wheat displayed by Liner is darker green, it grew faster than wheat on the adjoining land not previously planted with peas, the stalks are taller and heads more full and plump than the average wheat.

Another important comparison is the green bugs' damage to the summer legume-fortified land was not nearly so apparent as the insects' damage to the adjacent wheat land.

Crop rotation to rebuild the soil will pay off for Laney since he estimates he will cut seven more bushels of wheat the acre on the acreage planted in peas last year.

Shown in the insert is the type of aphid which gives farmers trouble with young crops, and which damaged Laney's wheat which was not planted in strengthened soil. The aphids are a common species of plant louse which feed on the underside of leaves and on stems injuring the seedling plants, and later deform, stunt or kill young plants.

P. S. The pea stalks were turned under after the green peas had been harvested for the canning market.

Summer Time Is Critical For an Increase Typhoid

"Now that summer has come to Texas it is time for people who expect to enjoy camping and swimming during the warm weather to be sure that they are adequately protected against typhoid fever," according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. "Although the public health strides of recent decades have practically eliminated typhoid fever as a threat to persons living in communities with approved water supplies and good sanitation, the disease remains a real danger to those who swim, camp or picnic in remote rural areas.

"Typhoid fever is transmitted from one person to another by means of water, food or milk that has been contaminated by discharge from a patient suffering with the disease or from an apparently well typhoid carrier.

"Spectacular reductions in typhoid fever cases and deaths as compared with those of a generation ago should not give the public a false sense of security. There has been 95 cases of typhoid and paratyphoid fever in Texas in 1951 — in spite of community efforts to improve sanitation, isolate patients and supervise known carriers. This indicates that it is still highly desirable for individuals who may be exposed to unfavorable conditions to safeguard themselves by seeking protection at the beginning of the vacation season.

"Immunization is a simple and safe procedure. Since this immunity lasts for only three years, anyone who has not been inoculated since 1948 should receive new protection this year. In addition, persons who have never in the past availed themselves of this preventive measure should by all means do so now if they plan to participate in outdoor pleasures. All persons who are due for immunization against typhoid fever in 1951 should go to their physicians without delay if they have not already received the recommended inoculations."

Pvt. and Mrs. G. J. Bonds, Jr., of El Paso, have spent the past ten days in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Bonds, Sr. of Canyon and R. A. DeFoe of Amarillo.

Mrs. Vearl Iverson, accompanied by Virginia Rigby, returned last week from Copperas Cove after having spent a week with her father, who returned home with her to spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Irby Carruth and son of Austin spent the holidays here at the Mrs. Henry Bradford and W. C. Black homes.

Bob, I. J., and Max Tow and Jimmy Owens enjoyed the week-end in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Mrs. Maude Walters spent the week in Mexia visiting her son Gene.

Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Woods spent the week-end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Woods of Groom.

Mrs. C. M. Presley returned from Houston where she had spent a week with her daughter.

Mrs. A. D. Parker and boys of Wichita, Kansas, are visiting in the C. E. Griffin home.

YANKS GO UNDER ON THEIR WAY OVER—Almost every major New York review passes under the famous Washington Arch, and the parade of these Yanks on their way to Europe was no exception. The 5000 members of the 4th Division's 8th Infantry Regimental Combat team are a part of the United States' contribution to the Atlantic Pact Army commanded by Gen. Ike Eisenhower.

GENOA HONORS FAVORITE SON—Celebrating the 500th anniversary of the birth of Columbus this year, the city of Genoa, Italy, displays this floral poster depicting the Nina, the Pinta, and the Santa Maria, the three tiny ships which carried Columbus and his crew to America and fame. The discoverer of America was born in Genoa in 1451, but was expelled by the city during his student days and never returned.

Modern War Is Taking Tole of Oil Supplies

In the past five years, the American oil industry has successfully met as arduous a test as any enterprise has ever faced. In that period, passenger car registrations rose 54 per cent, truck registrations 70 per cent. The number of farm tractors increased 47 per cent and the number of diesel locomotives in service went up 206 per cent. The number of oil burners used for home heating more than doubled.

To all this has been added skyrocketing military demand for oil. To take a single example, just one of the B-29 bombers now fighting in Korea requires 10,000 gallons of gasoline to fill its tanks—enough to last the average motorist some 15 years.

All in all, in five short years Americans have increased their annual consumption of oil products by the huge total of 580,000,000 barrels. Yet there has been no important shortage of any major oil product and none is in sight. Barring all-out war, the future will see more petroleum products available for civilians than ever before.

It is now necessary for the industry to again greatly expand its production capabilities. This will cost at least $3,000,000,000—considerably more than the industry's total profits in its best year. The industry will do all in its power to carry out this program.

The best way to assure an adequate oil supply in the future is to keep this great industry free of governmental red tape and unnecessary controls, to maintain intelligent tax policies, and, above all, to keep oil going as one of the most highly competitive of businesses. That, in broad terms, is the road to progress in our kind of economy.

SUGAR

The Agriculture Department announces that the 1951 quota supply of sugar for the United States is 8,250,000 tons or 250,000 tons more than that of 1950. Sugar imports are being upped to meet increased sugar use.

UNEMPLOYMENT

Unemployment dropped in May to 1,609,000—the smallest total since World War II ended in August, 1945, according to the Census Bureau. The number of employed civilians, meanwhile, jumped 1,148,000 in May to 61,193,000, the highest peak in six months.

SELDOM HAPPENS

One hardly ever hears of a woman cashier running away with her employer's money, but when she does, she generally takes the boss along with her.

The young man was rather shy, and after she had thrown her arms around him and kissed him for bringing her a bouquet of flowers, he jumped up and grabbed his hat. "Oh, don't go," she said, as he made for the door. "I didn't mean to offend you." "Oh, I'm not offended," he replied. "I'm going for more flowers."

FOOD CROPS

A favorable turn in the weather has given a boost to hopes for a record harvest of food, livestock and fiber crops this year, according to the Agriculture Department. Dry weather in the South and Southwest and abnormally cool, wet weather in many other important farming areas had turned to normal by the middle of June.

Your Business Growing With a Lot of Frills

Anyone who has the slightest interest in honest, economical government should read an article by Charles Stevenson in the June 9 issue of the Saturday Evening Post, called "How Government Pressure Boys Squander Your Money." The point of it is well described by the Post's sub-title: "With expensive books, cocktail parties and thousands of paid press agents, government agencies beat the drum to glorify and perpetuate themselves. They try to teach you what to think—at your expense."

Mr. Stevenson's article deals with governmental publicity activities—paid for, of course, by all the taxpayers. Here is a small sample of what he has to say: "Budget Bureau statistics indicate that $105,000,000 is spent annually from taxes to pay 3,400 Federal publicity employees and circulate their product. Much of this represents statistical reports, desirable promotion of good farming practices, information concerning social-security benefits, plus other services authorized by Congress. But much of it is also sheer propaganda of another order. In one week The New York Times received enough government news releases to fill 800 of its columns, and the Journalism Quarterly, on analyzing 286 releases of this type, found 55,080 words of press-agentry, 10,166 words to influence legislation, and 45,615 words to influence policy."

Mr. Stevenson names names. The Federal Security Administration has shot the works in promoting compulsory government health insurance. The Bureau of Reclamation has beaten the drums to the limit in trying to force socialization of the power industry and government power development, especially in the West. And government propaganda has entrenched the Army Engineers "as an all-powerful pork-barrel construction agency."

It is an amazing story—and a disheartening one. How much longer will the "government pressure boys" be permitted to squander the taxpayers' money in this manner?

CIGARETTES

Tobacco manufacturers turned out 383,000,000,000 cigarettes in the 1949-1950 season, and 390,000,000,000 in 1948-49, according to the Agriculture Department, which reports that "the consumption of cigarettes per person aged 15 or older increased 27 per cent from 1925 to 1950." A total of 410,000,000 for the year ending June 30 is predicted—an average of eight to ten smokes a day for every person in the country.

WOMEN WORKERS

The Civil Service Commission reports that the Federal Government had 532,500 women on its payroll in civilian jobs last April 1, a gain of some 126,000 since last July. The report covered only the executive branch of the Government and did not include women employed by the courts or by Congress.

"A central bank should not hesitate to allow rates to rise to whatever level proves necessary. Though interest costs on the debt rise, it is far better that this occur than that the American people constantly lose their savings through continued declines in the purchasing power of the dollar." — B. H. Beckhart, Professor of banking, Columbia University.

E. H. Neville, British professor: "Mathematics may be defined as the subject in which we never know what we are talking about or whether what we are saying is true."

After reading about Virginia Hill and Washington mink coats, can you remember back when woman's suffrage was being urged because, if women could vote, politics would be purified?

People are funny! (Hardly an original observation, of course.) Some time ago, I read about the appointment of a friend (or so I looked upon him) to an excellent position.

What with writing this "column" and a daily humor feature and traveling around making speeches and writing a book a year, I manage to keep my time pretty well occupied but found a couple of minutes to write him a note of congratulations. He did not reply.

And the odd thing was that his new job was in the field of public relations, which is just another name for gaining, and keeping, good will!

Louis Sobol, Broadway columnist, declares, "The greatest instrument ever devised for mass boredom, in my unsolicited opinion, is the cocktail party."

Name of a cafe in San Antonio, "Eat It and Beat It." A place of business in Austin is named "Howard's Sew-and-So."

Some Oklahoma college professors say their conscience will not permit them to fight in defense of our government but their conscience permits them to draw a living from that government.

Fisher Alsop, Temple's contribution to the story-telling art, was once a school teacher. He attended an institute where an eminent educator, a very wise man from the East, made a speech in which he said, over and over, "Study the child! Study the child!" In the open forum, Alsop was called on for his views. He drawled, "In my school, there are 85 students and I'm the only teacher. So since there are 85 of them and only one of me, it would be simpler for them to study the teacher! Study the teacher!"

ALL AT ONCE

Los Angeles. — Mrs. Vinite Nicholas got more than mail on her front porch recently. A two-ton truck, loaded with carpets and an automobile, crashed into her house. The truck crashed into the living-room, while the automobile selected a bedroom in which to come to rest. The postman, who had just visited Mrs. Nicholas' home, escaped injury, as did the others.

LADYLIKE

In a large store a man who had gone to make a purchase noticed that nylons were being sold in one of the departments, and decided to get a pair for his wife.

He was a dignified, middle-aged man and soon found himself buffeted by a crowd of frantic women, also after nylons.

He stood it as long as he could, then, with head lowered and arms outstretched, he barged through the crowd towards the rapidly-diminishing stock of hosiery.

"Here," cried a shrill voice, "can't you act like a gentleman?"

"I've been acting like a gentleman for an hour," replied the man, still charging forward, "but from now on I'm going to act like a lady!"

TOO MUCH

Washington, Ind. — Deciding he was too drunk to stay home, peaceably, a man got police to pick him up. However, the sentence to the State Penal Farm he got when he pleaded guilty to public intoxication was too much, so he appealed.

DOLLARS TO COVER BEAT

Danville, Va. — When friends learned that Policeman Claude S. Search your heart and your conscience on how you have been doing for your Uncle Sam lately. It won't take a minute to know if his hat is your size or not.

175 years ago our forefathers created what might be called "a design for Freedom and better living." They did it with the Declaration of Independence.

You and I and all of us are enjoying the fruits of this system. But are we taking a "free ride"? Are we watching others laying the brick or are we in there passing up more mortar?

Our kind of Freedom, challenged often since 1776—and preserved each time—is now facing into its toughest hour.

This time there is a bigger enemy to freedom without, but a vaster indifference to freedom within.

How do you know when you're indifferent to Freedom? Here's a little measuring stick:

— You "let George" attend the town meeting when some public problem for your community is coming up.

— You beg off on things like Civil Defense projects.

— You have "a thousand other things to do on Election Day."

— You figure only the goofs get caught for jury duty.

— You figure the best way to lick inflation is for everyone but you to buy only what's needed and put the balance in U. S. Bonds and other savings.

That Uncle Sam hat is a symbol of our freedom. That Freedom was won 175 years ago with a lot of work, war and worry. Now it's again in danger from our own apathy.

Come on—WORK, SAVE, VOTE, PRAY. Put on the hat—on you it should look good!

Independence Hall, Philadelphia, where the Declaration of Independence was signed in 1776. Here will gather the Delegates of Freedom on July 1, 2, 3 and 4. They will come from all over America and from freedom-loving countries.

This is the year of re-dedication throughout America. Take a new look at Freedom, think how it works for you in your community, and help it along today as it has helped you in the past.

Light and Color Important To Realization of Beauty

Wouldn't this be a drab and gloomy world without color? And, did you ever stop to realize the magic that the human eye performs in bringing this multicolored world to you? Do you know, for example, that in looking at violet for one second your eye receives 800 trillion waves to produce the sensation of this hue?

Much about light and color was a deep mystery until comparatively recent times. Aristotle's theory that colors were blends of light and dark was held for many centuries. Then, in 1666, Sir Isaac Newton noticed that sunlight passing through a prism was split into all the colors of the rainbow, and he evolved the theory that colors were not blends of light and dark but the component parts of light.

Now it is known that light has an atomic as well as a wave structure, and Professor Albert Einstein says it also has mass. The colors a substance will give off are the same as those it will absorb when light strikes it. Every type of matter has its own special spectrum. In sodium, for example, the spectrum is chiefly yellow; in calcium, violet.

The visible spectrum contains waves ranging from red (these waves are the longest—one thirty-five-thousandth of an inch from crest to crest) to violet (these are the shortest—one sixty-seven-thousandth). In between are orange, yellow, green, and blue.

Color has been of incomparable value to man in science and industry. It enables him to detect poisons in the blood stream, thus helping in the diagnosis of various diseases. It enables him to identify dangerous elements in foods, and elements in various metals, permitting qualitative and quantitative analysis.

Iron Ore Imports Set Highest Mark in History of Nation

Nearly 9.2 million net tons of iron ore came into the United States last year from 15 foreign countries. That was the largest amount ever imported, exceeding the 1949 total by about one million tons. In 1945 imports were only 1.3 million tons.

Meanwhile, rapid progress was made in the development of iron ore deposits in Venezuela after more than a dozen years of planning and investment. The first ore from one new property in that country arrived at an eastern port of the United States in the latter part of March.

Venezuela is expected to become an important source of ore for the United States. The property shipping the first ore, mentioned above, is one of two developments in Venezuela. It is expected to produce eventually at the rate of 3,000,000 tons a year and may later yield 5,000,000 tons a year.

Cites Early Detection

The decrease in deaths from mouth cancer during the last 10 years can be attributed in part to early detection of the disease by the dentist, a cancer specialist reported in The Journal of the American Dental Association. Dr. Leonard B. Goldman, director of the cancer prevention and detection center at Queens General Hospital, Jamaica, N.Y., said that "since most persons visit their dentists periodically, early cancer often may be found during a routine dental examination." Dr. Goldman, who is also professor of radiotherapy at the New York Medical College, Flower and Fifth Avenue Hospitals, New York City, urged an extension of dental health education. "To the well-known advice, 'See your dentist twice a year,' should be added the slogan: 'Your dentist can help you prevent mouth cancer,'" he said. Dr. Goldman listed as factors in mouth cancer infected gums, jagged teeth, ill-fitting dentures and excessive smoking.

Eye Exercises—Good or Bad?

Eye exercises are beneficial in some cases but useless or even dangerous in others, according to the Better Vision Institute. The value of such exercises depends on the nature and seriousness of your visual errors. Also, it is emphasized, eye exercises should only be attempted under the direction of a qualified specialist who has thoroughly examined your eyesight. Seeing is an acquired skill, and most people fail to use all their potential visual abilities. Some develop good visual skills, while others develop faulty seeing habits although their eyes may be structurally perfect. One scientist taught servicemen to recognize various types of planes and ships in 1/100 of a second and to read two or three times faster than they ever had before. Some of the men retained their new visual skills, but others relapsed into old habits.

Correcting Squint

Excellent results have been accomplished through the use of visual training to correct squint. Thousands of children have regained normal eyesight in this way, without surgery. A typical visual training program consists of three 30-to-60-minute periods a week. Many people with mild seeing faults have about a 50-50 chance of benefiting from such training. But unless improvement is noticed immediately and progress is constant the value of continuing is questionable. Competent examinations are important.

Now Freedom needs you!

175 years ago our forefathers risked their necks and all their earthly goods to put together history's greatest declaration of a free people . . . Since then we've enjoyed a big package of freedom "for free" . . . And now Freedom needs us, lest in time to come she become no more than a worn-out word in a dog-eared dictionary . . .

How would you like to roll out of bed some dark morning and have a big palooka tell you where you're going to work that week, what your wife's going to wear, and what your kids have to do?

Don't shrug it off, sink it in—it can happen here!

The point is, we're more likely to toss Freedom away ourselves—unthinking as with an old cigarette butt—than lose it in a fight.

Over the years we have tended to become a nation of spectators of the things that keep us free, just as we are at baseball games, movies, or our TV sets. In government, we have tended to become a nation of Monday-morning quarterbacks.

grandstand umpires and sideline sophisticates. Haven't we?

We watch a few others vote, then gripe because the wrong man gets in, and moral standards suffer.

We look on while the community discusses a project, then kick like steers because the new school didn't get built.

We view with alarm prices going up but don't stop to think of putting some of our excess change into Defense Bonds and other savings.

Here are four short words to think about:
WORK • SAVE • VOTE • PRAY

It takes doing things like that to keep Freedom solvent—and America needs 150 million people in the act. Doesn't it?

Now--Freedom needs YOU!

The Declaration of Independence was signed at Independence Hall, Philadelphia, in 1776. Here will gather the Delegates of Freedom on July 1, 2, 3 and 4. They will come from all over America and from freedom-loving countries.

This is the year of re-dedication throughout America. Take a new look at Freedom, think how it works for you in your community, and help it along today as it has helped you in the past.

Not just a conversion of the famous "77" twine-tie, the Model "80" was designed from the ground up as a wire-tie baler. Its tying mechanism is fast and trouble-free. Pick-up and baling action are so gentle that the valuable leaves are saved. This means up to 50% more feed value . . . a better price for hay.

If you're in the market for a wire-tie baler, remember only the "80" gives you up to 10 tons an hour!

UP TO TWICE THE CAPACITY OF OTHER WIRE-TIE BALERS PLUS THESE EXCLUSIVES!

Warning System

When wire in the can runs out, an automatic warning lets you know in plenty of time to prevent missing any bales.

Hydraulic bale tension control

Automatic feature, automatically allows for variations in moisture content of hay.

New Holland Twist

The Model "80" ties its "knot" in an "in-line twist." Neat and sturdy, this wire-tie low fat-will not pull loose or unravel.

Roll-Away Bale Chute

Standard equipment on the wire-tie "80", the roll-away bale chute flips bales far to the left out of the tractor's path.

With a New Holland "77" you can count on baling up to 10 tons of hay an hour. The "77" is rugged, simple in construction. It has 20% fewer parts and offers many improvements. Farmers agree there's no finer twine-tie baler!

Anniversary of Nation Fete Is Under Progress

From July 1 to 4 a chain of events will be set in motion in the City of Philadelphia that could spell the difference between freedom and slavery for the liberty-loving people of the United States.

It will herald the beginning of a new Era in American Independence — perhaps the most profound beginning since 1776 — and mark the starting point for a nationwide, year-round return to the American ideals so realistically set forth by the Founding Fathers in the Declaration of Independence.

The occasion is the 175th Anniversary of the sacred American charter which pledged the lives, fortunes and honor of a small band of Patriots to give us a century and three-quarters of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

The setting is Independence Hall which cradled American Liberty and watched it grow into a world-wide way of life called democracy.

The necessity stems from the most serious threat yet raised to the moral standards, the spiritual values, and the inalienable rights that we once held dear but now take for granted. A deadly enemy, aggressive and totalitarian, is challenging these freedoms globally and internally on a scale never before experienced by the United States of America. It no longer is safe to assume that the sacred heritage bequeathed to us on July 4, 1776 can stand alone.

As Philadelphia inspires and the Nation prepares, let all of us join the Independence Crusade. The time is NOW for each and every one of us to pledge a Re-Declaration of Independence from the forces of Evil and a new Dependence on a kind and bountiful God.

Two national organizations are furthering the observance of Independence Day and the Day of Re-dedication of our Republic: The American Heritage Foundation, sponsor of the famous Freedom Train, and The Advertising Council, created by American business to promote non-partisan projects in the public interest. Their slogan, "Now Freedom Needs YOU!" keynotes the purpose of their activities: to create a greater awareness of our freedom and what we must do to preserve them.

Galveston Mayor Defends Right of People to Gamble

An explosive two-day hearing by the House crime committee on the Galveston gambling situation highlighted the crime news last week.

Two days of public testimony by 31 witnesses ended with a vigorous defense of Galveston by its mayor, Herbert Y. Cartwright.

The Galveston mayor told the crime committee that Texas ought to have local option elections to determine whether the citizens wanted open gambling, sale of liquor by the drink and regulated prostitution.

Representative Waggoner Carr of Lubbock, a member of the committee and former county attorney, took sharp issue with the Galveston mayor.

Carr said it appeared that "if you don't agree with a law in Galveston, you don't live by it."

"I think that's true of the boot-legger in Lubbock," retorted Cartwright.

"Yes, but they get caught pretty often," Carr fired back.

Following the hearing, Mayor Cartwright said that "what the people of Galveston want they will have. I stand pat on everything I said in Austin."

The gambling Maceos of Galveston refused to answer any questions except for Sam Serio, who was granted immunity from prosecution. Thirteen partners in the multi-million dollar gambling syndicate refused to answer questions by the committee on the grounds that their answers might tend to incriminate them.

Testimony of Galveston's mayor, sheriff, police chief, police commissioner and county attorney concluded that the people of Galveston got the kind of law enforcement they wanted. This view was disputed by the Rev. Will R. Johnson of Galveston's First Presbyterian church who said that a vote of the people in Galveston would overwhelmingly demand enforcement of gambling and vice laws.

Colonel Homer Garrison, Jr., of the Department of Public Safety, said he believed there were more good people than bad people in any community and that Galveston has been a "thorn in the side of law enforcement," but that they would have to enforce the law in Galveston as elsewhere.

Meanwhile, Attorney General Price Daniel, whose injunction against phoning horse race betting information has stopped that part of the Galveston law violations, intervened in a suit in Orange.

National Debt Has Risen to $255 Billions in '51

While no one in Washington seems to be worrying about the national debt, folks from the forks of the creek express concern for the mounting debt. Not that the debt is too high for the present, but no effort is being made to reduce this debt.

The debt now is $255 billion. Translated into common terms, the average family of America has a national debt of $5,640 confronting it.

Proclamation

WHEREAS on July 4, 1776, the Continental Congress, in Philadelphia, adopted a resolution as representatives of the United State of America, declaring among other things "That these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states"; and

WHEREAS they stated as an axiomatic truth "That all men are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights"; and

WHEREAS they quoted certain rights, amongst which were Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness, and

WHEREAS Almighty God looked with such favor on their cause that the weak and struggling nation, against overwhelming odds, won its war for independence, and

WHEREAS Almighty God has prospered this nation since that time to such an extent that it has become the greatest single power on the earth, the richest nation on earth, and the most prosperous nation on earth, and

WHEREAS it behooves each individual citizen of this nation to endeavor to maintain and perpetuate the rights and privileges secured to him by the sacrifices and difficulties endured by those first patriots and by every patriot since that time,

NOW THEREFORE by the authority vested in me as the Mayor of the City of Canyon, I proclaim July 4, 1951, as a holiday for the citizens of Canyon, Texas, and request that each citizen give thanks first to Almighty God for his gracious provisions, and secondly to those outstanding heroes who have in the past fought, suffered, and died that the rights and privileges proclaimed by the Declaration of Independence should remain inviolate.

Drivers Must Be Able to Protect Themselves, Others

Car owners and drivers will be held criminally responsible for car wrecks under the terms of a bill which was signed Thursday by Governor Shivers.

Under the terms of the new law, all car operators must either carry insurance against accidents, or have $15,000 in property which may be attached to pay the damages inflicted in case of an accident.

In years past a large part of the accidents were caused by drivers of old cars on which there was no insurance and the drivers had no property which could be attached for payment of damages.

U. S. Senate to Drop Investigation MacArthur Firing

The Senate will make no official report on the long investigation which has been carried on regarding the firing of General MacArthur.

The Senate feels that the subject has turned into a "hot potato" with little chance for the Senators being able to agree among themselves after all of the long testimony has been received.

The committee will probably turn in its "no report" in a few days.

Ten Million People Have Health Insurance

It has been observed that the strongest factual argument against compulsory government health insurance lies in the remarkable growth of the various voluntary plans. These organizations have tens of millions of members, even though they have existed for a relatively short time. They are still growing at a very rapid rate, and their services have been steadily improved and broadened. They provide the worker and his family with protection against the financial impact of illness at a very modest cost. And, of great importance, they do not interfere with the patient's freedom of choice in picking a physician or a hospital. Voluntary health insurance has thus been a mighty weapon in the fight against politically-dominated medicine—which would simply be a prelude to socialized medicine. But there has been another "secret" weapon involved as well—and that is the growing fear, held by vast numbers of thoughtful citizens in all walks of life, that we have been unwittingly marching down the road toward the totalitarian state. Government control of the instruments of medical care would obviously be a keystone in such a state. Lenin himself, an authority on totalitarianism if there ever was one, said that.

Furthermore, the claim that most Americans cannot afford good medical care is simply not true. A comparatively small number of people are in this position, and methods are being provided to care for them. The great majority are not. As a people we spend less for illness than we do for tobacco and beverages and various other luxuries. A doctor's bill may be a burden, but most of us can meet it.

The politicians have been soft-pedaling the compulsory health insurance scheme lately. And they've done that because they know the people don't want it.

New Postal Money Order Is Now in Use in Postoffices of Nation

Patrons of more than 42,000 Post Offices will find the new and more convenient money order available Monday morning, July 2, 1951. Postmaster General Jesse M. Donaldson announced today.

Principal changes in the new money order system will make it possible to have a money order cashed at any of the nation's post offices or it may be collected through any bank in the same manner as the depositing or cashing of a check.

The new money order appears in the form of a punched card instead of the customary paper slip and purchasers will fill out the same form and pay the same fees as has been required in the past.

The regulation that money orders must be cashed at specific post offices has been eliminated. Under the old system, it will be recalled, a money order had to be cashed in the office to which it was issued. If it was cashed at a post office in another city an additional fee was charged.

The new system makes available to the Post Office Department the most advanced electronic business machines. One machine, the IBM Type 808 Proof machine, has been especially developed for the new money order purposes and it combines all the advantages of the modern proof machine in widespread use by banks and large department stores throughout the country. Another of the principal machines to be used with the new system is the Electronic Statistical Machine, workhorse of the 1950 Census tabulation.

The Postmaster General described the inauguration of the new money order system as the largest single accounting change ever made in postal history and said that the development comes after exhaustive study by the Post Office Department, the General Accounting Office, the Treasury Department and the Federal Reserve Board.

The Department urges users to remember that the new money orders must not be folded, stapled, spindled or mutilated in any way since they are to be issued on punch cards and processed by machinery.

Last year more than 300,000,000 money orders, totaling upward to five billion dollars were issued and paid by the Post Office Department.

The new money order system will be under the management and supervision of Assistant Postmaster General Osborne A. Pearson, who directs the Department's Bureau of Finance.

All new money orders will clear Federal Reserve Banks in the same manner as Treasury checks or other cash items. The Federal Reserve banks will then turn over the paid money orders to the proper regional Post Offices.

The new money order system is in keeping with the program to modernize and improve the operation of the postal service, as well as to effect economy and the better to serve the general public.

WARREN'S

Moral Force Is Greater Than Military Force

"The tumult and the shouting dies, The Captains and the Kings depart."

So wrote Kipling long ago, in one of the most memorable of English poems. And those two lines certainly apply symbolically to the great debate over our Far Eastern policy, which began with the MacArthur testimony, and continued with Marshall, the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Acheson, Wedemeyer and others. The hot excitement that swept the country has largely cooled. The leaders have been heard. But the tremendous problems remain.

In a recent column, Holmes Alexander, the commentator on Washington affairs, wrote, "The one sure mistake that anybody can make is to offer simplifications of the matter. That is where President Truman and General MacArthur both went wrong, the former in defending administration policy and the latter in condemning it. You cannot wrap up a complicated subject in easy-to-remember phrases." In the cold, unflinching light of history, just about everybody who had anything to do with Eastern policy was wrong and Roosevelt made the basic mistake at Yalta, when, following his advisors, he gave the Soviet important concessions in and about China. Following that, Truman, MacArthur, Marshall and all the others made major mistakes. All of them made one outstanding mistake in common, when, apparently, they thought that there was small chance of Red China involving herself in the Korean war.

In some respects, the testimony of General Wedemeyer was the most positive and interesting of all. General Wedemeyer was a prophet of a high order—the report he made after his 1947 mission to China, which was recently released after being classified "secret" for years, forecast much that has happened. Now Wedemeyer thinks that we are making a ghastly mistake in spending our manpower and resources in Korea. In his own words, "I don't believe we are getting at the right enemy at all." In his view, the real enemy is Russia and it's time we faced up to that fact and took appropriate action—even though that action would involve a calculated risk of all-out global war. He would have us break off relations with Russia and the satellite countries and establish economic blockades around their areas.

Then he said one more thing which was not nearly so widely reported as were his views on the military phase of the struggle. He said that we must also use moral force. Of this, David Lawrence wrote, "The most important recommendation of all . . . was General Wedemeyer's proposal that the United States organize its psychosocial warfare on a broad scale. This means the pledge of economic help to our friends, the communication to the peoples of Russia of the truth about American intentions, and the sending of military missions to all those countries, large and small, whose armies could possibly form a part of the defense of the free world . . . Surely the genius of America in the field of communication should be given the chance to demonstrate what has long been believed by many of us—that moral force can be of greater value than military force in preventing war." A very large number of people, looking at the appalling world of today, will wholeheartedly support that idea. Something resembling it may very well mark the next phase of our changing foreign policy.

Take Home Pay on the Decline

The important thing to any salaried man or wage earner is his "take home" pay—the amount of money he actually receives, after all deductions, when each payday comes around.

The government, through taxes, is cutting down our "take home" pay more and more.

A magazine published by a southern power company touched on this when it said, "Socialist planners try to sell their plans for government-in-business on the idea of 'something for nothing.'"

"Socialized medicine, Federal owned power, government built steel plants and U. S. financed transmission lines all come from the same hopper.

"The man who pays is the wage earner, through direct and indirect taxes, and through withholding deductions which cut down his 'take home' pay. The taxpayer is learning that the 'something for nothing' means that he must pay 'something for nothing,' and he'll keep right on paying more and more until he rises to put a stop to Socialism in any guise whatsoever."

The way to protect your "take home" pay is to work for the strictest kind of governmental economy—Federal, state and local—and to oppose government in business, whether that business be banking, the production of electric power or anything else that could and should be done by taxpaying private enterprise. Otherwise the socialists and the "spend, spend, spend" boys will clip our "take home" pay right down to a bare subsistence figure.

The proceeds of the check of the successful bidder will be applied to the purchase price of the Bonds or be retained by the Local Authority as liquidated damages in the event of the failure of the successful bidder to take up and pay for the Bonds in compliance with the terms of his proposal. All checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned immediately on award of the Bonds. All proposals shall remain in force for twenty-four hours after the time above specified for the opening of proposals and an award of the Bonds, or a rejection of proposals, will be made by the Local Authority within said period of time.

In the event that prior to the payment for the Bonds the interest received by private holders on bonds issued by public housing agencies in connection with low-rent housing or slum clearance projects shall be taxable by the terms of any Federal law hereafter enacted, the successful bidder may, at his election, be relieved of his obligations under the contract to purchase the Bonds and in such case the deposit accompanying his bid will be returned. The Bonds will be general obligations of the Local Authority secured by a first pledge of annual contributions unconditionally payable pursuant to the aforesaid Annual Contributions Contract in an amount which, together with other funds of the Local Authority which are actually available for such purpose, will be sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the Bonds when due, and the approving opinion of Caldwell, Marshall, Trimble & Mitchell of New York City to such effect will be delivered to the purchaser without charge.

The Bonds will be delivered within sixty days from the time set for the opening of proposals, or the good faith deposit will be refunded at the expiration of said period at the option of the successful bidder. Delivery of the Bonds will be made without cost to the successful bidder in New York City, unless another place is mutually agreed upon.

Postal Service Review Shows a Big Business

A revealing article on the weird workings of bureaucracy appeared in the June issue of Harper's Magazine. Written by C. Lester Walker, it deals with the amazing case of the United States Postal Service.

The post office is big business, with a capital B. It also enjoys a total monopoly in its field, which is true of no other business, big or little. Its annual revenues run around $1,670,000,000. It has 500,000 employees, 42,000 branch offices, and 10,000 vehicles. Yet some months ago people in various parts of the country complained of sharp declines in the standards of postal service. All kinds of mail—air, first-class, special delivery, parcel post—was taking longer and longer to reach its destination. In some instances the delays seemed incredible—Mr. Walker writes, "Mail from London, England, was being received in Radio City as soon as mail posted at the same date and hour in the Bronx."

This was the result of cuts in service which were ordered in April, 1950. And the reason for the cuts, according to the Postmaster General, was that the department would have a deficit of about $530,000,000 for the fiscal year, and something drastic had to be done.

Is it necessary for the post office to lose money—and huge sums of money at that? Mr. Walker doesn't think so. The British Post Office has made a profit in almost every year since 1711. The Canadian Post Office is also a profit-making enterprise. What, then, is the trouble with the U. S. Postal Service?

Mr. Walker quotes a telling sentence from a Hoover Commission Report which said the department has "a creaky, over-centralized organizational structure; outmoded methods and equipment; cumbersome budgeting and accounting systems; a maze of tangled regulations and restrictions." One of these faults, excessive centralization, may be the worst of all. The whole tendency of modern industry has been to decentralize, in the interest of economy, efficiency and better service to customers. Mr. Walker cites as one example of this a chain store system with 1,612 stores, each of which has been given almost complete managerial autonomy. In the Post Office Department, by contrast, Washington runs everything. No decision of consequence can be made without permission from headquarters—and this often takes endless, time-burning correspondence to get.

Mr. Walker finds that the post office has been about 100 per cent opposed to mechanical handling and sorting methods which are used both in private business and in the postal services of some other countries. It seems to be a case of what was good enough for grandpa is good enough for sonny.

Going on, Mr. Walker believes that the post office personnel system is impossible and inefficient. The postmasters themselves are political appointees—they are at the heart of the patronage system. And post office accounting methods, which are laid down by the all-powerful General Accounting Office, seem to be as archaic as the bow and arrow.

Mr. Walker goes into details in his article, and some of his revelations are staggering. At the end, he summarizes a plan which, in his opinion, would eliminate all or practically all of the department's huge deficits. In essence, this plan would simply have the post office operate along standard business lines—something which, apparently, government-businesses never do. It remains to be seen if they ever will.

Averell Harriman, Special Assistant to the President, hurried to France after the French election to make a careful size-up of the situation for Mr. Truman. American officials are looking to Edouard Daladier to emerge as a man of power and decision in France, who may deal more firmly with the Communist problem in Government and in the armed services.

White House orders for an attack on the "China lobby" are designed as a countermove to the coming Senate investigation into the Institute of Pacific Relations. There have been published charges that the IPR, with close Government connections, had followed a line favorable to Communists.

EMPLOYMENT

Nonfarm employment rose slightly in May to an all-time seasonal high despite cutbacks in the production of automobiles, television sets and other consumer goods, according to the Labor Department. Increased defense activity and the normal spring rise in construction work pushed the total of nonfarm jobs to 46,100,000 on May 15. Unemployment for the month was at a postwar low.

AIR FORCE

For the first time in its history, the Air Force may be forced to call on the draft to meet its manpower goal of 850,000 by June 30th, because of a lack of volunteers. Previously, only the Army has taken draftees. The Air Force, like the Navy and Marines, has filled its quota with volunteers.

OUR DEMOCRACY — by Mat

A Declaration by the Representatives of the UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
OURS TO CARRY ON
When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for a people to dissolve the political bonds which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes.

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVENTY FIVE YEARS AGO, 56 BRAVE MEN SIGNED THIS DECLARATION AND PLEDGED TO SUPPORT IT WITH THEIR LIVES, THEIR FORTUNES AND THEIR SACRED HONOR.

THAT VALIANT BAND NOT ONLY FOUNDED A NEW NATION, BUT BEQUEATHED TO US THE INDOMITABLE WILL, THE FEARLESS SPIRIT OF FREEDOM, THAT BURNED IN THEIR HEARTS AND THOSE OF THEIR COMPATRIOTS.

OUR NATION LIVES BECAUSE THE SPIRIT OF THE SIGNERS LIVES. "THE DAY WE CELEBRATE" SHOULD BE A DAY OF REDEDICATION TO THEIR IDEALS.

Pinkney Packing Co. Feature Quality

No review of the industrial and agricultural activities in the Panhandle would be complete without mention of Pinkney Packing Company of Amarillo and their Sun-Ray Brand of dependable, tasty, tender meats which are processed and packed with the utmost care in their modern, sanitary plant which assures wholesome flavor and nutrition. These quality Sun-Ray meats are distributed to markets, grocers, and cafes over the entire Panhandle.

Pinkney Packing Company has been a boom to stockmen in West Texas and have afforded them a ready market for their choice cattle. They have indeed proven that it is no longer necessary for our ranchers to consign their choice cattle to far-away markets to obtain a top price, and that selling them in Amarillo will both save and make them money.

It is with pleasure in this review edition of The News, that we commend F. V. Miller, vice-president and general manager of this aggressive Amarillo meat packing concern, as well as all the other officers and employees for their high quality Sun-Ray Beef, Pork, Hams, sausage, bacon, and other choice meats. They have indeed made a liberal contribution to our rich trade area and merit the patronage of our many readers. If you have not asked for Sun-Ray Brand at your market, you have missed a real treat.

SCHOOL AID

Another effort has been inaugurated by Representatives Barden, chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee to get Congress to vote Federal aid to states for schools. Build, Buy, Live in Canyon!

Less Beef; Poor Quality Results

One of the best editorials yet written on the much discussed, much misunderstood meat situation can be found in the June issue of Country Gentleman.

Here, in part, is what that magazine had to say: "The rollback of beef prices recently announced by the Office of Price Stabilization is indefensible. . . . There can be only one result—less beef and a poorer quality for consumers. Cattle feeders simply won't risk the losses that the OPS move assures. . . ."

"The action is certain to defeat itself for it ignores the three forces responsible for beef prices. These are: the amount of money people have available to spend; the proportion of it they will spend for beef; and the amount of beef available for them to buy. The first two forces are still free to operate; in fact, consumer incomes are rising. But less beef to meet the demand is rendered inevitable.

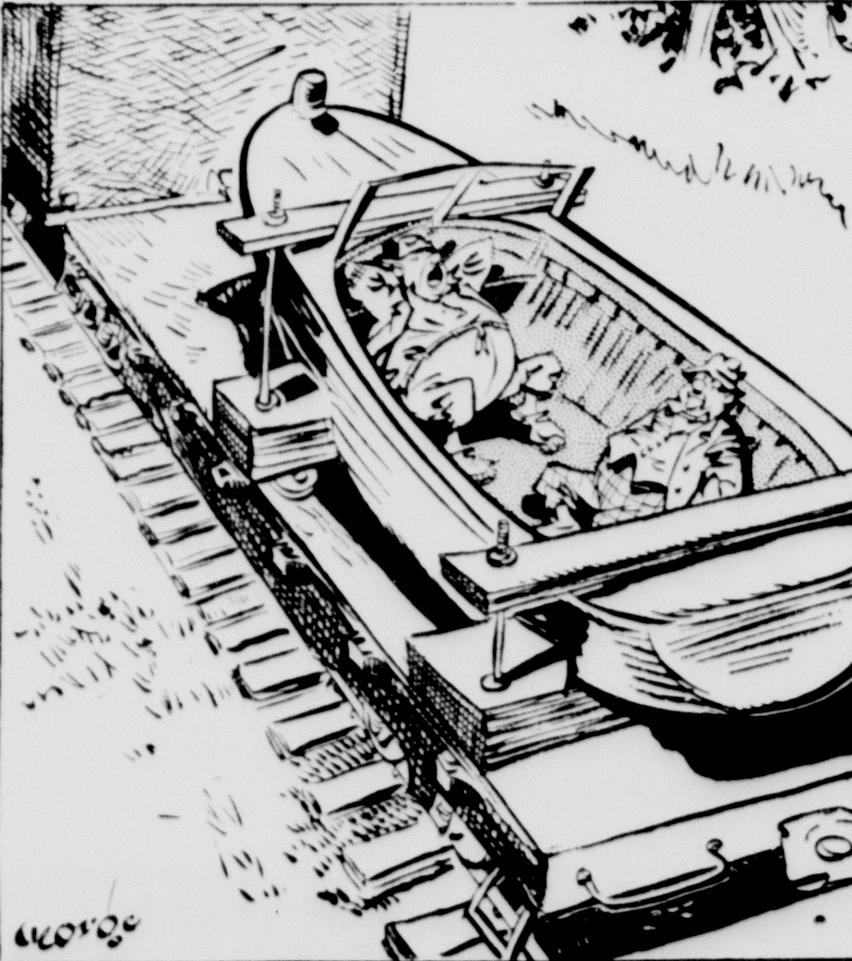

"When people have more money to spend and want more beef, there is only one logical way to meet the situation. That is by increasing the supply, and cattle producers were increasing production. This is now thrown into reverse. The course taken by the OPS renders its usefulness open to question. It was just such a witless procedure that blew the OPS out of existence in 1946."

There you have it. Whatever else the OPS may or may not do in the future, the points and principles so clearly enunciated in Country Gentleman's editorial will remain 100 per cent valid. In the fight against soaring prices—for beef or anything else—increased production is absolutely essential. The very existence of OPS regulation tends to feed the fires of inflation, and work against the interests of consumers, producers and all concerned.

DAIRY FARMING

The Agriculture Department reports that beef is being given preference over milk and dairy products in the nation's food purchases. It points out that milk production averages less for each consumer than at any time since the agency began keeping records in 1930. The reason behind the switch of farmers from dairy herds to beef production is seen in the high prices being received for beef-cattle as compared with the prices received for milk and dairy products.

SURPLUS DROPS

The Treasury recently reported that the Government's running budget surplus fell to $1,962,556,000 on June 7th, for the first time since March, but it is expected to rebound sharply before the end of June. Big quarterly tax payments by corporations and individuals on June 15th are counted on to help bring the surplus up to an estimated $3,000,000,000 by the end of the current fiscal year on June 30th.

MOTHERS-IN-LAW CLUB MEETING THURSDAY

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Cox were host and hostess to the Canyon Mothers-in-Law club members and their families on Thursday, June 28, at their beautiful home, 1905 Fourth Avenue.

A bountiful covered dish luncheon was served picnic style in the spacious back lawn.

Mr. Cox read a letter from Mrs. G. B. Combs, club president, who was unable to be present because of illness. Mr. Cox gave the invocation and following the luncheon the guests and members enjoyed a musical program in the lovely entertaining rooms. Bouquets of painted daisies and tulips were arranged on the piano and dining table.

The following musicians presented the program: J. T. Marshall, violin; Bud Rusk, violin; E. C. Hawes, mandolin; T. S. Furlow, guitar; E. G. Barnes, piano; E. G. Gough, steel guitar.

The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Pitt, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hilgenfeld, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Webb,

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hawes, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McDaniel,

Plains Creamery Boon to Agriculture

Now located in their new and modern plant at 300 N. Taylor the Plains Creamery in Amarillo are in position to better serve the Panhandle. They have spared no expense in the equipping of their new plant with the latest scientific devices to assure their patrons of the purest, highest quality dairy products.

PLAINS Grade A Pasteurized and Homogenized Milk, Cream, Butter-milk, Ice Cream, Butter, Cottage Cheese, Orange Drink and Chocolate Milk are delivered daily to homes, groceries and markets throughout the area and their high quality is known and appreciated by thousands.

In addition to supplying the very highest quality dairy products, Plains Creamery has furnished a ready market to our dairies and farmers for their raw milk and cream. They have indeed displayed confidence in the future of our rich trade area in building one of the finest creameries in the Southwest. The management of this aggressive concern, J. L. Nunn, president; A. F. Madison, vice-president and general manager, and G. D. Bowie, secretary-treasurer, are men of vision and have always been most co-operative in any worthwhile movement that would better our community, especially those programs that would tend to further the agricultural interests of the Panhandle.

We are glad in this review edition of the paper of complimenting Plains Creamery and their able management for the quality products they sell, the cooperation they give our farmers and dairymen and their liberal contribution toward the betterment of the Panhandle.

by HUGH WILLIAMSON

For success of a democracy, four factors must be in balance: management, labor, agriculture, and government.

The Texas Better Business Bureau and other agencies, believing that statement to be true, sponsored in Austin the Texas Workshop in Economic Education.

Teachers from many cities and towns came, stayed three weeks, and heard a number of outstanding speakers give their views on current problems.

The object was to let the teachers hear what persons familiar with management, labor, agriculture, and government are thinking; and to take some of these ideas back to their classrooms.

Dr. Richard J. Gonzalez, Humble Oil and Refinery Company economist, expressed the aim clearly when he said that if the nation's economic problems are to be decided by political ballot, then the voters must get more economic knowledge.

The teachers who attended the Workshop, it is anticipated, will give to their students some of the information they gathered during the session in Austin.

The citizens of tomorrow, therefore, will presumably be better equipped to vote intelligently and to understand the workings of their democratic government and of the free enterprise system.

Some of the speakers expressed the view that in the United States today, there is danger of the four factors getting out of balance as government begins to outweigh the other three.

One of the outstanding speakers was D. A. Hulcy of Dallas, who, as president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, is the nation's top business man.

Hulcy is president of the American Gas Association, the Lone Star Gas Company, and the Texas Better Business Bureau.

Management, he said, is vitally interested in all means of making the public aware of the necessity for a co-operative approach to production for the common good. He added:

"Management should be and is anxious to assist the schools to develop more economically literate generations."

Knowledge will convince the public, Hulcy indicated, that free enterprise in a democratic government means freedom of action, while under socialistic forms management, labor, and agriculture are captives of an all-powerful government, and the people are little better than slaves.

Dr. Robert H. Montgomery, professor of economics at the University of Texas, believes that the Workshop is a move in the right direction.

"I believe that a more literate citizenship will result in the strengthening of free enterprise," he said. "I believe that man, if adequately informed, will logically select the right one when presented with many choices."

Montgomery participated in a panel discussion with two other economists, Dr. Richard Johnson of Southern Methodist University and Dr. Leland Traywick of Michigan State College.

They agreed that economic security of the people is based primarily on abundant production of consumer goods.

Barnett Features Peralex Plaster

One of the outstanding contractors in this area is Barnett Plastering Co. located at 3711 Polk Street in Amarillo, phone 6561. Guy N. Barnett, who heads this concern, has had wide experience in the plastering contracting business and has done the plastering and stucco work on many of the business buildings, schools, churches, public buildings, and better homes throughout the Panhandle. He always employs experienced craftsmen and personally supervises every job. Many of the general contractors and developers of the Panhandle look to Barnett to do all of their plastering and stucco work because they know that his organization can be depended upon to do a first class job.

Guy Barnett, when he built his new home at 3711 Polk Street in Amarillo, saw to it that the very latest methods in plastering were used, which includes plaster cornices, and indirect lighting by the use of plaster. He is glad at all times, and without obligation on the part of the prospective builder, to discuss plastering problems whether it be one room on a remodeling job or an entire building. He will also point out the advantages of PERAL-LEX Plaster which is applied with machine applicators.

Plastering is one of the oldest trades in existence and a good plaster contractor such as Barnett Plastering Co. is indeed an asset to any community. We are glad, in this review edition of our paper, to recommend this outstanding Amarillo concern to our many readers and to congratulate Guy N. Barnett on the enviable reputation he has made in his chosen field.

$12,000 IN RUBBISH

175th ANNIVERSARY OF OUR INDEPENDENCE

What kind of a world have they shoved you into? What kind of a country are you going to grow up in? What kind of a life can you look forward to, as you kick your first kicks and squall your first squalls on the Glorious Fourth of '51?

You see, baby, a lot of big question marks are floating around these days. And your birthday, being the same as your country's, seems a good time to bring some of them up.

175 years before you were born, a bunch of men got together and risked their necks to sign a thing called the Declaration of Independence.

It guaranteed that everyone in this country had the right to "Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness"—but it took a lot of war, work and worry before the rest of the world believed us.

We hope, when school days come, you'll read this Declaration through—it isn't long—even though you don't quite understand all the big words.

The point to remember, baby, is that all over the world today the great freedoms our Declaration of Independence stands for are being attacked.

Through the complacency or don't-careness of our own people, those attacks could be successful.

You're little now and the things we're talking about aren't nearly so important to you as a question like "When do I eat?"

Yet you're going to grow and grow and grow into your United States. And when you get big enough, you'll vote and work and have a home of your own.

Then is when you'll want to vote free as the birds that sing outside your window now; you'll want to work wherever you wish; you'll want a home that keeps rain out and Freedom in; you'll want to go to whatever church you choose.

Now, it's up to your dad and mother, and the fathers and mothers of other babies like you, to do the things that keep your Freedom.

Things they can do right in their own home town. Things like voting every time for good leaders. Things like working together in their own neighborhoods to make life better for all.

Other fathers and mothers have done those things since way back in 1776. That's why they've always turned over a free land to their children, no matter what troubles came.

Baby, we'll turn over a land to you where you can grow up to live and vote, and work and talk, the way you please! So help us, we will! God helping us, we must!

Now--Freedom needs YOU!

SHORT STORY Wait Your Turn

By Ona Freeman Lathrop

BESS WILKINS wondered if she was going to be able to stand another twenty or thirty years of Henry's stubbornness and impatience!

3-Minute Fiction

"I declare, your father is getting so cranky in his old age."

"Why, Mother, how you talk!" Alice looked shocked.

"Well, he actually embarrasses me in restaurants and public places if we aren't the first to be waited on. And today he wouldn't even bank his money from that last real estate deal just because there was a line ahead of him."

"Just don't pay any attention to him," Alice advised. "You probably aggravate him more when you argue with him. Maybe he isn't well?"

"There's nothing the matter with him that a good hard jolt wouldn't cure, and I'm going to think up a way to jolt him out of his cussedness," Bess announced.

But she hadn't yet thought up the jolt when she and Henry were driving out for groceries that evening.

"Got to have some gas in the car before we can go to town," Henry announced, a scowl cluttering up his once-so-placid face.

"Henry, I'll need some money," she informed him as they drove along.

"Well, here, take my wallet and get out a ten-spot."

Silently she counted the bills. No sense in Henry carrying that much money on him. She helped herself and replaced the wallet.

Henry pulled into the neighborhood gas-station. No one came out. He honked the horn. Then he honked again, not once but twice, and then again—a long blast. Bess couldn't contain herself any longer, much as she had determined not to argue with him.

"Now Henry, don't be so impatient," she said meekly.

"Well, for the love of Mike! When a man wants service, he wants it quick." He gave the horn another fierce blast.

"But Henry, you know that horn sticks sometimes. You'll have it sticking if you blow it like that."

"Then they can fix it." And he tooted it again. No one came out. "By the Lord Harry, I'm going in there and tell them what I think of them," he shouted, getting out. "I can see some one in there moving around."

BESS WATCHED. Yes, she could see a form moving in the dim interior. Funny the lights hadn't been turned on yet. She saw Henry step inside and close the door behind him. Then she saw something that made her heart skip a beat. His hand went up high above his head. A stick-up!

There ought to be some way! After all, she couldn't have anything happen to Henry. She leaned over and pushed the horn—clear down. It stuck as she had hoped it would.

The station door flew open. The masked bandit stuck his head out.

Alice advised her mother not to pay any attention to him. "Maybe he isn't well," she suggested.

"Shut that off, sister!" he snarled. "I can't. It's stuck," she told him, trying to keep her voice from squeaking in high soprano. "Get that crate out of here then," he snarled.

"I don't know how to drive, and besides, my husband has the keys in his pocket." She could see heads sticking out of doors and people stopping to turn and grin at the corner.

"Come on, Eddie, we've got to scam out of here," the first one croaked, and they came out on the run to a parked car. By that time a police car was rounding the corner.

Henry and the gas-station attendant came out sheepishly to disconnect the horn and fix it.

"You sure saved our skins, Bess," Henry murmured in a subdued voice. "But my bank-roll is gone. After this—"

Bess smiled. "Oh, I had taken all the money out of your wallet except nine dollars, but I think that will teach you not to be so impatient anyway, Henry. Next time, wait your turn."

We shall have forsaken our bounden duty as parents — as the elder generation — if by any action, or lack of it, we lead this nation to socialism and leave our youth bereft of the spirit of freedom they cherish, and for which those who came before them have died.
